

ENERGY, VECTOR OF LOCAL DEVELOPMENT

Posted on 19/05/2017 by Naider

The world has to rapidly transform its energy system, shifting from one based on oil and fossil fuels to one without greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions, characterized by a rational and efficient use of energy and energy sources clean and renewable. In this way, the serious consequences of climate change of which the