

GLOBAL INNOVATION INDEX

Posted on 24/07/2014 by Naider

The seventh report of the Global Innovation Index has recently been presented. This index, co-published by Cornell University, INSEAD and the World Intellectual Property Organization, WIPO,
\(one of the United Nations agencies\), is published annually and ranks the capacities and results of innovation economies around the world. This index has become a benchmark and allows us to know in greater detail the human aspects behind innovation, which are so important for its development.

We leave you with a video in which Soumitra Dutta, from Cornell University. He explains more to us. Also, if you are interested in finding out more or reading the report for 2014, we invite you to visit the web Global Innovation Index
