

INTELLIGENCE SEARCH

Posted on 22/07/2015 by Naider

100 million dollars is what the Russian billionaire will contribute for ten years to the project led by NASA and founded as "Milner's Breakthrough Listen Initiative" to investigate the search for intelligent life in space, as we can see through the latest article from < a href="http://www.scientificamerican.com/espanol/news/the-search-for-extraterrestrial-intelligence-gets-a-big-financial-boost/" target="_blank" rel="noopener">scientificamerican< /a>.

The agreement presented in London aims to promote the search for another type of life outside the earth, a project that NASA has carried out since the 1970s and promises to have no commitment to the wealthy Russian beyond his baptism with the name.

An agreement that can undoubtedly be a small gesture from Mr. Yuri Millner but a big step for science.

There are no comments yet.