

IS THIS DRINKABLE WATER?

Posted on 27/07/2014 by Naider

To find out, you only have to use Euskalsense, an App developed by the University of Deusto, and more specifically by a research group from DeustoTech and Open data Euskadi whose use will allow users to check the quality of drinking water in the Basque Country.

Euskalsense analyzes both chemical and biological parameters and has a map with air quality measurement stations and drinking water quality measurements in the Basque Country. This application aims to detect where the water quality is not good in order to react. And we citizens will be able to see all this information quickly on our phone.

There are no comments yet.