

#NAIDERCOP21 (DAY 6): PIRATED POSTERS FLOOD PARIS CALLING FOR CHANGE

Posted on 05/12/2015 by Naider

Sixth day of COP21.

82 artists have installed 600 pirated posters throughout Paris to demand a radical action by governments. The posters resemble commercial advertisements and have been placed on displays at bus stops throughout the city, within a project announced under the name of "Brandalism." An example of activism for today, the "Action Day" of the negotiations.

There are no comments yet.