

THE BASQUE ECONOMY, A BENCHMARK

Posted on 29/07/2014 by Naider

On a recent visit to the Basque Country, Luisa Fernanda Rudi, president of the Autonomous Community of Aragon, qualified to the Basque economy a reference model, in relation to competitiveness, capacity for innovation, internationalization and solidity of the productive fabric.

Mrs. Rudi is touring the entire state to present Aragón, a community to invest in, a very good initiative.

Well-deserved praise, but the aspects mentioned by Mrs. Rudi are those in which the Basque economy as a whole must work more, looking to the future and to the end of the crisis, since although the Basque Country may be a benchmark in Spain, it must aspire to be so in the rest of Europe as well. There is still work to be done.
