

THE PLANET BUYS TIME

Posted on 18/08/2015 by Naider

It is never too late if happiness is good, or something similar our beloved planet must be thinking, and that is that as a result of the data published by the European Union, the famous greenhouse gases or CO2 have been exponentially reduced since the adoption of the Kyoto treaty back in 1997.

One of the priority reasons why this change is being possible is the increase in energy from the sun and the wind. The countries that have seen their emissions reduced the most are Germany, Sweden, France, Spain and Italy.

At naider we are happy to be able to provide this type of news and we believe that these data only make us aware that a sustainable planet is possible and that we can even set ourselves more ambitious goals.

There are no comments yet.