

WEALTH AND INEQUALITY, TWO SIDES OF THE SAME COIN

Posted on 07/07/2015 by Naider

The proverb says that the money was made round so that it rolls. Even so, it seems you forgot to mention that it tends to roll more towards the rich than the poor. The same can be seen from a publication by the Foundation for Applied Economics Studies of the Complutense University.

Based on study results, the higher the per capita income in the main Spanish cities the greater the inequality between inhabitants will also be. A very interesting analysis that makes us think about whether the wealth of a particular region is really synonymous with social well-being. #wealth #inequality #cities #naider

There are no comments yet.