

ENERGY TECHNOLOGY PERSPECTIVES REPORT

Posted on 03/11/2024 by Naider

The International Energy Agency's latest Energy Technology Perspectives report focuses on the global energy transition and its six key technologies. The sustainable transition offers great opportunities for countries seeking to produce clean technologies, their components and related materials. At the same time, it poses major challenges for governments in deciding on their industrial and trade policies.

PDF available

