The latest Biannual Report on the Situation and Evolution of the Circular Economy in Spain by the Cotec Foundation for Innovation highlights the modest progress made in the European Union (EU), despite additional efforts since 2020.

At the Spanish level, improvements are noted with the National Circular Economy Strategy, but challenges persist in meeting recycling and waste reduction targets. The importance of a change of economic model to meet circularity commitments, both at European and local level, is also highlighted.
