POVERTY FROM ANOTHER FRONT

Posted on 27/10/2015 by Naider

This video shows us, from the hand of the French economist Esther Duflo, how to combat endemic problems such as school dropout or malaria in the poorest areas of Africa from a different point of view.

The video highlights the inefficiency of the policies adopted by governments to deal with the situation and proposes different alternatives to the conventional ones.

There are no comments yet.