Gowex. After several days of speculation about its sharp collapse, its shares have been suspended from trading before the opening of the day. The Alternative Stock Market (MAB) has asked you to detail an action plan in response to the report by Gothan City Research.

This action has generated different controversies, and it is understood that the Gothan Report, against the wi-fi company, is a clear market abuse, since it is about obtaining their own benefit. If this issue is clarified, Gothan could also see its listing suspended.

For Gowex, a dual process opens: either it convinces and returns to trading strongly, or it ends up collapsing forever. In the latter case, the speculative forces that drive many of the actions on the stock market will have triumphed once again.
