The service company INKNOWATION presents its services in a very stimulating way. Through a small corporate video, it traps the viewer in a captivating process to encourage them to undertake, to transform, to innovate. He tells us about comfort zones where we are comfortable; from panic zones, where all our fears of innovating overwhelm us, or from magical zones, where our dreams are achieved.

The video is cool. If you're a little stuck, it's still worth checking out. It's in Spanish... that takes away excuses!
