

VIDEO: VERTICAL CROPS TO SUPPLY THE CITY

Posted on 12/07/2016 by Naider

The largest indoor vertical garden, built in a 6,400-square-meter warehouse in New Jersey, aims to introduce the world to a model that supplies the growing urban population without the use of pesticides and with 95% less water consumption.

There are no comments yet.