Last week we attended the second SCORE Project Consortium meeting in Alicante. During three very productive days, we had the opportunity to meet with all the partners involved in the project (including the technical partners and the 10 Coastal City Living Labs) and exchange ideas, experiences and lessons learned during these two years, as well as to coordinate the next steps and schedule for next year and updates on all the work already done. It was a pleasure to meet all the people who are making the success of this project possible and to continue working for the best results.
