Aitor Mingo (Berango, 1993), environmental scientist responsible for various projects of local sustainability, environment and territorial development in his first stage in Naider between 2019 and 2022, rejoins our team after a year of growth in Latin America, full of new knowledge and experiences, having participated in several environmental and social initiatives.

A graduate in Environmental Sciences from the University of the Basque Country and European Master in Sustainable Cities, Aitor will once again contribute his academic, technical and social vision to the team, as well as his skills in programming, planning and evaluation of processes and dynamics.

Ongi etorri etxera, Aitor!
