Naider will assist Ihobe in designing and implementing a training plan on climate and energy transition for the Basque public administration. The project involves developing a training programme for public sector professionals in this key area.

This will involve creating training materials and delivering the programme, addressing the challenges and opportunities of the climate and energy transition. To ensure that the training is tailored to the needs of the Basque administration and contributes to the objectives of Law 1/2024 on Energy Transition and Climate Change, Naider will work with Ihobe, Udalsarea 2030 and EVE.

Through this project, Naider is demonstrating its ongoing commitment to providing the necessary training tools for a more sustainable future.
