Ihobe, a public company of the Basque Government, engages every year in dialogue with its potential supplier entities with the aim of developing strategies and processes that help to consolidate long-term relationships based on transparency, collaboration and mutual trust.

Within this framework, Naider took part in the event, once again reinforcing our close relationship with Ihobe, one of our key clients, with whom we have been working on a continuous basis for more than 20 years. This forum provides a valuable space to gain first-hand insight into the Basque Government's needs, expectations and policy priorities in the environmental field, while also allowing us to showcase our strengths, capabilities and potential in supporting Ihobe through our services.

Our sincere thanks to the entire Ihobe team for continuing to place their trust in Naider and in our ability to contribute to climate action, the circular economy and environmental planning in Euskadi.
