The Naider Team met once again on January 26 in Bilbao to continue the process of internal reflection that we carry out annually.

In December we looked back to share and value what we had done and learned in the previous twelve months. In this new meeting we have come to specify and define ideas and plans for the challenges that await us in the medium and long term. Not only from a "business as usual" continuity approach, but also from the disruptive approach that is necessary for the processes of ecological transition, business competitiveness and territorial development of which we are a part together with clients and collaborators.

We hope to continue building the project and sharing the fruits we obtain with everyone. Mila esker guztioi!
