The NAIDER project has just turned 11 years old. Over a decade already pushing projects, driving trends and articulating proposals for our cities, our companies and our society in general. We are now preparing for at least another 11 years. A new decade in which we hope to bring together more people, collaborate with many more entities and pour all our energy into achieving that mission that we wrote back in 2004 and that is still engraved in our shared imagination.

A step in this line is also the merger of the two companies that until now have shaped the project and that we are now going to integrate into a single one to provide the project with greater capacity. For the coming months we are also putting together other complementary management forms that contribute to making Naider a project that is increasingly open to collaboration and more relevant from the point of view of the impact of its activity.

...To help move towards a creative, economically innovative, socially just and ecologically responsible society...

...from a credible organization, intellectually active, cosmopolitan in its way of working, committed to society and reconciling public and private interest...

... on the path of sustainable human development and solidarity.
