Naider presents its candidacy in collaboration with a network of collaborators and two renowned companies such as Paisaje Transversal and LandLab for the revision of the Partial Territorial Plan (PTP) of the functional area of Álava Central. The current PTP (2004) must contemplate different aspects of the current reality, both legal and socioeconomic and territorial. At the same time, the PTP will not work alone, it will form part of an extensive set of territorial planning instruments that the Basque government has been drawing up for 30 years now.
