On Tuesday 30 May, NAIDER participated in the workshop on the European Project MICAT - Multiple Impacts Calculation Tool organised by the City Council of Vitoria-Gasteiz. The aim of the session was to present the objectives of the tool and then, through some use cases, to allow the agents present to evaluate the tool in terms of user experience, language and process. In this line, the conference was also an opportunity to corroborate the synergies of the MICAT tool with the Urban Indicators Observatory of the 2030 Agenda, developed in collaboration with Naider.
