Yesterday we were in Lezo socializing the Naturalization of industrial parks project. Owners and users of the Sagasti, Ipintza and Itturrin industrial estates attended the three sessions organized throughout the day. These served as a meeting point that allowed them to learn about both the project and the demands and needs of others.

We also took the opportunity to visit door to door several of the businesses in the different industrial estates and learn the opinions of those who could not come to the meetings. The day allowed us to learn even more about the reality of the polygons and their needs. We were also able to appreciate the general feeling for regenerating the polygons and for betting on more natural, sustainable and humane actions that allow them to enjoy their workplace.
